SUMMER READING IS HERE! Stop by the bookstore to pick up your summer reading before you leave for the summer. Get all your books and the correct edition at your campus bookstore. The store will also be open this summer on an intermittent schedule so please check the portal for hours.

USED BOOKS? What are you going to do with them? Why not drop them off at the drop off table outside the bookstore and get credit for books used again next year. Instructions are on the table and you can drop books off through June 30th anytime Olson Hall is open. Books received after this date will only receive credit if sold. Help another student save money with a used book next fall by dropping them off as you leave campus instead of lugging them home.
